THURSDAY: ON THE TRAIL OF WORLD WAR I

Mountain infantryman skiing is the great novelty of this year for all those who want to ski in the Dolomites. The location route leads through what used to be the Dolomites frontline, around the Col di Lana, the 'bloody mountain', which represents World War I. Passing through the most wonderful Dolomite landscapes, among the Pelmo, Cinque Torri, Tofana, Lagazuoi, Conturines, Settsas mountains and, for the untiring, the Gran Risa downhill run. Guided ski tour with bus service, skiing guide, ski bus, and horse-drawn sleigh from Capanna Alpina to Armentarola. With HOLIDAY PASS Kiens € 5.00, Other € 10.00, (Dolomiti Superskipass excluded).
